

Area Water Level Will Be Stable

Levels in County water basins serving Torrance are expected to remain about the same as last year, despite a forecast of lower levels throughout most of the rest of County, according to Supervisor Kenneth Hahn.

Hahn said statistics compiled by M. E. Salsbury, chief engineer for the County Flood Control District, indicate that the 1963-64 water year will be second successive one in which amounts of rainfall have been below normal.

Well levels throughout most of the County are expected to be lower this year than in the fall of 1963. The exception is the coastal plain area, including Torrance, the Peninsula, and West Long Beach. Levels in Inglewood, Hawthorne, and Venice coastal area will be slightly lower, said Hahn.

NEW CHAIRMAN . . . Jim Becker, Chief of Police Walter H. Koenig, and Mrs. Eva Bisou discuss plans for some of the new safety campaigns which the Torrance Safety Council will begin this year. Mrs. Bisou was recently elected to chair the city commission, while Becker is the new vice chairman.

High Schools Slate Tennis Instruction

Contact lenses are safe if your eyes are free of disease, the lenses are properly fitted, and you have periodic examinations to be sure no harm is coming to your eyes, the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, Inc., states.

Free tennis instruction for all age groups will be available all next week at Carson and Narbonne high schools. No pre-registration is required for the clinics but attendance at the first session will conduct the week-long of the week is advised. Participants are asked to bring their rackets. Balls and rackets will be provided, if needed, by the sponsoring Youth Services Section of the Los Angeles City Schools.
